

17 Gun Salute to General

'Hello Mother,'
'Hello Ike,' is Greet-
ing. Then Famous
Son Kisses Mother

KANSAS CITY, June 21.—(P)—General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, 53 members of his official party returning from Europe came home today to his native midwest to receive a tumultuous two-state homecoming celebration and greet his 83-year-old mother, Mrs. Ida E. Eisenhower, of Abilene, Kas., and four brothers. The general's plane landed at Municipal airport at 12:16 p. m. CWT.

General "Ike" in his gigantic five-star plane "The Sunflower" stepped forth first and was given a tremendous ovation as he saluted the military band that greeted him. General Eisenhower then rushed to his mother and gave her a big kiss, shook hands with Governor Phil M. Donnelly of Missouri and Roy A. Roberts of the reception committee.

He was wreathed in smiles as he posed for photographers as a hundred military planes roared overhead, and bands played.

Greeted by Governor
Governor Andrew Schoepf of Kansas stepped forward to greet the general and after a brief greeting to his four brothers, here for the gala event, the general retired to a room for a half hour of privacy with his immediate family. On hand also to greet him was his wife, who had come from New York by train.

The band played "The General's March" as General Eisenhower, in bright, warm sunshine, moved toward the reception room after also greeting Mayor John B. Gage of Kansas City, and mayors of adjacent cities.

A 17-gun salute roared forth a greeting to the European supreme commander as he came home to his homefolks after great ovations in London, Paris, Washington and New York. The Texas bred and Kansas reared general beamed broadly throughout the greeting with his family, some members of which had not seen him in three years.

'Greets Mother
Tonight the whole Eisenhower clan, some 65 of them, will assemble for the first complete family reunion in 20 years. This will be at Abilene, Kas., the general's home, where he will go by special train late today after the Kansas City parade and celebration.

After the general was greeted by the official reception committee, his brother, Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Kansas State college, Manhattan, and his mother, Mrs. Ida Eisenhower, pushed through the crowd.

The general, in the middle of a handshake, turned, took off his cap, advanced toward his mother and said:

"Hello, mother, how are you?" She murmured "Hello Ike," and received a kiss from her famous son.

Veterans Need Sympathy, Aid

"When Our Men Come Home," was the subject of a talk by Major Willis M. Lewis, SAAF chaplain, before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

Major Lewis spoke about the rehabilitation problem in three phases; as it involves the soldier himself, the war worker, and the ordinary citizen. Adjustments will have to take place all along the line prior to and during the immediate-post war era. After the pressures and tensions of war many returning veterans will become victims of restlessness and boredom, the chaplain remarked. He urged they be given sympathetic help not just pretty speeches.

Chaplain Lewis was introduced by R. C. Hemphill, program chairman.

Also on the program was Pvt. Charles Trask, assistant to the chaplain, who sang two solos, with Mrs. Nellie Monegan acting as piano accompanist.

Guests were: W. W. Brookman, Kansas City, with Robert Q. Henderson; and Harry Satterwhite, Sedalia, with C. R. Kilbury.

Still Off Jobs

JACKSON, Miss., June 21.—(P)—Striking bus drivers and mechanics of the Tri-State Transit company voted here in Shreveport, La., to stay away from their jobs until the government takes action.

General's Wife Arrives in K. C. Early Today

KANSAS CITY, June 21.—(P)—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, wife of Five-star Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, arrived by train today and her first question was:

"When will Ike get here?" The Iowa born, blue-eyed brunette then wondered, "How much will I get to see him?"

Mrs. Eisenhower was greeted at Kansas City's union station by Mrs. John B. Gage, wife of the mayor, and Mrs. Roger T. Sermon and Mrs. Lee Roberts, wives of the mayors of Independence and North Kansas City, respectively.

The general's wife invited them to breakfast on the train while the car she occupied was being switched to a siding.

"Might as well have a cup of hot coffee," she urged, and the three women accepted, quickly at ease with their hostess.

Japan Easier To Destroy Than Germany

Bombardment Will Be Carried Out by Two Heavy Forces

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(P)—The strategic bombing of Japan will be carried out by two separate bombardment forces, the 20th and the 8th.

This was disclosed today in a news conference with Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, chief of the 8th Air Force which now is being redeployed from Europe to the Pacific area.

In answer to a question about the general setup, Doolittle said: "The 8th will be under my command; the directives will come from the joint chiefs of staff."

This will parallel operations of the 20th Air Force, commanded by Gen. H. H. Arnold, with Lt. Gen. Barney Giles the deputy commander in the Pacific.

The 21st Bomber Command, (a part of the 20th Air Force), based on Saipan, has been conducting the attacks on the Japanese home islands. The 20th is directed from Washington and the strategy is determined by the joint chiefs of staff here.

8th Headquarters
Doolittle said that Colorado Springs, Colo., will be the headquarters of the 8th Air Force while it is retraining in this country.

Asked whether the 8th would use only the Superfortresses used by the 20th, Doolittle said that the "decision to date is to have B-29s and such other ships as are needed." He was unable to say whether the B-17s, used along with the B-24s in the bombardment of Germany, would be part of the 8th Air Force in the Pacific.

He said the 8th hoped to have long-range fighters as part of its Pacific organization.

While Doolittle gave no further details on the Pacific air organization, he said there would be an announcement on the strategic command in that area soon.

More Easily Destroyed

He said he believed Japan would be easier to destroy industrially than Germany because:

1. There is a greater concentration of Japanese industry than was found in Germany.

2. The targets in Japan are more inflammable.

3. The Japanese war economy and industry do not have the recuperative power which Germany had.

4. The Japanese he said, have not had time to put their factories underground as the Germans were doing in the closing months of the European war.

The general, who led the first bombing raid on Tokyo in 1942 by flying medium bombers from an aircraft carrier, was asked if he expected to go over Tokyo this time.

"I don't think it would be expedient for me to go over Tokyo until the job there is done," he replied. "I should not like to fall into Japanese hands."

He then explained that there is a standing order against any officer who has knowledge of future strategic plans allowing himself to get into a position where he might fall into the enemy's hands.

Eisenhower Is a Fine Gentleman

Comments Truman:
He's Entitled to Anything he Wants,
And He'll Get it

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 22.—(P)—President Truman said today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of Allied forces in Europe, was entitled to anything he wanted and that he would see that the general gets it.

The president did not elaborate at his news conference here on this remark, made after a reporter inquired of his plans for Eisenhower, a guest at a White House stag dinner Monday.

Eisenhower's first job, is to get back to Germany and finish his work there, the president said.

How long he will be there, he said, he did not know, adding that was one of the things to be settled at his forthcoming "Big Three" conference with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

The general, he said, is entitled to anything he wants, and he wants to see that the general gets it. The general, he said, is a grand gentleman.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 21.—(P)—President Truman today praised the work of the San Francisco conference, promised that the meat situation would be straightened out and denied reports of contemplated removing Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes.

In his first press conference since leaving the White House the president also expressed gratification over the Senate's approval of legislation extending the reciprocal trade agreement program with further tariff lowering authority.

He announced that he would stop over in Portland, Ore., at 11 a. m. (Pacific War Time) (1 p. m. CWT) Monday enroute to San Francisco where he expects to arrive at 4 p. m. (6 p. m. CWT).

The president expressed confidence the Senate will take favorable action on the Bretton Woods agreements as well as the reciprocal trade legislation. The latter, he said, permitting direct quotation, "places the United States squarely behind the principles of international trade cooperation."

Favors Highways

He came out flatly in favor of the postwar completion of the Alaskan highway in cooperation with British Columbia and Canada. He said there is about 600 miles of road up the trench to complete.

"Stories have appeared in eastern papers that you are getting rid of Mr. Ickes and replacing him with Krug (J. A. Krug, chairman of the War Production Board)" a reporter asserted. He asked the president if he planned such action.

No, the president replied, he didn't, it was the first he had heard of it, he added, and it was news to him. He hasn't discussed it with Mr. Ickes at all, the president concluded.

The president added that he had no cabinet changes immediately in mind, and that he would let the reporters know when he did.

W. S. Shinn Dies Of Injuries

William S. Shinn, 47 years old, died at the Bothwell hospital at 7:00 o'clock this morning. He was taken to the hospital early Tuesday morning, suffering from injuries received in a fall down the stairs at 117½ South Ohio avenue, Monday night.

Dr. W. T. Bishop, who was called, said he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage.

Chief of Police Anson Finnell, investigating the accident today, said he talked with Walter Shaw, a roomer at the Ohio street address, and he reported that it was about 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, when he heard something like a thud on the stairway. He went to investigate and found Mr. Shinn lying about halfway down the stairway, near a storm door. He evidently had fallen while walking up the stairs to his room.

Mr. Shaw was quoted as saying that Shinn was taken to his room and when his condition appeared to be serious, Dr. W. T. Bishop was called. The doctor said he believed Shinn had suffered a stroke, and he was taken to the hospital.

Mr. Shinn was born near Green Ridge November 24, 1897. His parents died when he was a child and he was reared in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Lytle.

He had lived in Sedalia for the past 16 years, and was employed by the Kray Packing company as stock buyer.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. J. J. Mann, New York City; his foster-father, W. S. Lytle; one brother, Levi Shinn, Wichita, Kas.; one nephew, Okeke Rice, Sedalia; one niece, Mrs. P. B. Montgomery, Hughesville.

The body was taken to the Ewing funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending word from the relatives at a distance.

Nazis Were Making Plans for 3rd Effort at World Conquest

By Tom Reedy

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(P)—A Senate committee said today it has obtained secret German documents showing how the Nazis intend to "hide" in strategic industries while planning "a third attempt at world conquest."

The announcement was made by Chairman Kilgore (D-WVa) of the War Mobilization subcommittee of the Senate military group.

Kilgore said his committee will open hearings next Monday "on this economic base for German aggression" and that additional facts will be brought out.

The announcement contained a report on a meeting of German industrialists at Strasbourg, Aug. 10, 1944, intended to make post-war plans.

Flame-Throwing Tanks Burning Japs Out of Pockets; Campaign Was Costly

By Leonard Millman
Associated Press War Editor

Conquest of Okinawa island officially ended today, while flame-throwing tanks were still burning Japanese out of suicide pockets.

The 82-day campaign was the costliest of the central and western Pacific. More than 90,000 Japanese were killed or captured.

Americans killed since U. S. total casualties of 35,116 were last announced a month ago included two generals—Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., 10th army commander, and Brig. Gen. Claudius M. Easley of the 96th division.

Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, veteran of China and Burma, will take over command of the Tenth army.

Transfer of "Vinegar Joe" Stilwell from command of U. S. Army Ground Forces to the Pacific was announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur shortly before Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced the end of the Okinawa campaign.

Increasing intensity of the air warfare against Japan was assured in the disclosure in Washington by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle that his 8th Air Force would join the 20th in heavy bombardment of Nippon's home islands. The 8th now is being deployed from Europe to the Pacific area.

Paralleling Operations
Doolittle told a news conference that operations of his force would parallel those of the 20th Air Force, with directives coming from the joint chiefs of staff. He was unable to say whether his force, which will headquarter at Colorado Springs while retraining, would include other bombers than the B-29s. He said he hoped to have long-range fighters, however.

Satisfactory progress was reported on all Pacific fronts though none of them matched this week's Nipponese death rate on Okinawa—3,300 a day.

American troops, supported by Mexican fighter planes in their drive toward the end of the Philippines campaign, swept 30,000 Nipponese troops toward

Will You Tell Your Soldier "I Can't Afford To Buy My Share"?

The generals and admirals can show us why our money is needed—more money than before. But our fighting soldiers can show us something, too! They're the men with twisted, crippled limbs . . . with clever hooks instead of hands. The blind . . . the men with scarred, seamed faces. And perhaps worst of all the men with blasted, darkened minds. They can show us clearly how small is any sacrifice we make in lending money. They can tell you why it is necessary for you to find your personal 7th War Loan quota and make it.

Sentenced in Child Slaying

Theo Joe McKee, 27, Lebanon, Mo., and Veda Marie Yates, 26, Springfield, Mo., (above) were sentenced to 99-year prison terms in Quay county, New Mexico, district court after pleading guilty to charges of second degree murder in the death of a 14-month-old baby boy. Deputy District Attorney J. V. Gallegos said the couple smothered the baby because they found "He was burdensome and cried a lot." Gallegos said the baby was Mrs. Yates' son.

Medical School Bill To Senate

JEFFERSON CITY, June 21—(P)—A hotly disputed bill to establish the final two years of the University of Missouri's medical course in Kansas City was passed by the House Wednesday and sent to the Senate, 78-59.

The bill hung in the balance briefly with only 75 members voting for it until Mrs. Caroline Imboden (D) of St. Louis added the needed 76th ballot. She had voted "present" on the roll call.

Rep. Randall Kitt of Livingston county, Republican floor leader, and Rep. R. J. King (R) of Franklin county, chairman of the powerful appropriations committee, promptly added their affirmative votes. Kitt had not voted and King had voted "no" when their names were called.

While the house was debating the medical school bill, the senate passed 24-0 a measure appropriating $2,102,075 from the general fund for the university despite an objection by Sen. H. R. Williams of Cassville, Republican floor leader.

He argued that operation of a newspaper by the School of Journalism represented competition with private enterprise and should be stopped. If a newspaper is necessary, he suggested it be paid for with tax funds and not be operated as a commercial publication.

The bill now goes back to the house for concurrence in minor senate changes.

For Extending Of Trade Act

Added Powers For President To Cut Tariff Rates

WASHINGTON, June 21—(P)—Smashing down a series of restrictive amendments, the senate Wednesday passed and sent to the White House legislation extending the reciprocal trade agreements law three more years with added power for the President to cut tariff rates. The vote on final passage was 54 to 21.

Already authorized under the old law to cut import duties in half, the President will be empowered under the new legislation to reduce them another 50 percent below the rates prevailing on Jan. 1, 1945.

Where the full power is used, duties thus could be trimmed for one-fourth of the Smoot-Hawley schedules of 1930.

President Truman called the broadened authority "of the first order of importance for the success of my administration."

The late President Roosevelt likewise was a hearty backer of the trade program fathered by Cordell Hull in 1934.

In topping half a dozen amendments today, the senate followed the pattern set yesterday in restoring authority for the additional 50 per cent cut which had been removed temporarily by the finance committee.

Defeat Amendments

The first amendment to go down, by a vote of 49 to 27, was offered by Senator Shipstead (R-Minn) and would have exempted virtually all agricultural products from tariff reductions. Opposing it, Senator Lucas (D-Ill) said it would have covered 610 separate classes of farm commodities.

By another 49 to 27 vote, the administration rode down an attempt by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) to make all new trade agreements subject to congressional approval.

In rapid succession, administration Democrats with some Republican help beat down proposals by:

Robertson (R-Wyo) fixing a maximum quotas for imports of wool the average imported from 1920 to 1941—defeated 51 to 23.

O'Daniel (D-Tex) placing the trade agreements on a treaty basis, requiring a two-thirds ratification by the senate—defeated 55 to 20.

Sedalian Active in Twelfth Air Force in Northern Italy Battles

HEADQUARTERS 12TH AIR FORCE, Italy—Pfc. George W. Lewis, son of Elwood Lewis, 212 East Pettis, Sedalia, Mo., is serving the 22nd Tactical Air Command of the 12th Air Force which furnished the air support for the Fifth Army in the victorious northern Italy campaign.

Preparing for the final drive in Italy, fighter bombers, night intruders and other aircraft of 22nd Tactical Aid Command dealt devastating blows to the German forces in the Po Valley. Day after day they cut enemy supply lines, blowing up rail yards, motor transport concentrations, fuel and ammunition dumps, military equipment and factories.

When the Po Valley push got underway, the 22nd TAC fighter-bombers concentrated upon close air support of the advancing ground forces.

Directed Bombers

Both on the ground and in the air fighter control observers directed the fighter-bombers in the attacks upon enemy-held points barring the path of the Fifth Army. P-47 Thunderbolts, Spitfires, A-20 Havocs, A-26 Invaders, P-61 Black Widows, Mosquitos and Kittyhawks were called as they were needed to liquidate these targets, often employing newly-perfected fire bombs and rockets in the process.

Every man in the 22nd TAC played an integral part in the victory, including personnel of other branches of the service assigned to duty with the Air Force, such as signal and medical corpsmen, ordnance men, chemical warfare and engineers.

Pfc. Lewis is working as a wireman in the 22nd Tactical Air Command.

Slight Fire Damage

Slight fire damage resulted when the grease in a oven at the Mrs. Louise Metcalf's residence 906 South Kentucky avenue, caught fire Wednesday evening. The fire was extinguished before the fire companies arrived.

Sentence On J. E. Noel Deferred

KANSAS CITY, June 21—(P)—J. E. Noel of Sedalia, Mo., Wednesday pleaded guilty in U. S. district court to a charge of perjury during trial of an OPA suit against him last November.

Judge Albert L. Reeves deferred sentence at the request of David A. Thompson, an assistant United States district attorney, who said he wished to present further evidence in the case before the next federal grand jury.

The perjury charge was under federal grand jury indictment relative to a truck deal.

Assistant to C. P. Anderson

KANSAS CITY, June 21—(P)—Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Kansas State college, Manhattan, has been appointed special assistant to Clinton P. Anderson, newly-named secretary of agriculture, with authority to reorganize the agriculture department.

Eisenhower, brother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, will not relinquish his post at the college but will divide his time between Washington and Manhattan.

Anderson, who announced the appointment here last night, said Eisenhower's first task would be to bring the activities of the war food administration within the agriculture department.

"Mr. Eisenhower had 12 years of service with the department of agriculture before going to Kansas State," Anderson said. "He knows the department from top to bottom. Personally, I believe him to be the best equipped man in the country to carry out the policies I have in mind for the producer of food and the consumer."

They will go to Carson City, Nevada, to appear before the governor of Nevada with extradition papers for his return to Missouri. However, it was said Shull had waived extradition when picked up for the Missouri authorities.

Enroute to Nevada they expected to stop at Boys' Town to see the institution under the supervision of Father Flanagan.

Suicide Plane Sinks Destroyer off Okinawa

WASHINGTON, June 21—(P)—The double blow of a Japanese suicide plane and a jet propelled Baka bomb broke in two and sank the destroyer Mannert L. Abele while she was on picket duty off Okinawa April 12.

The ship's loss was announced April 20, but the navy today told additional details of her final action. Casualties were 81 dead and 32 wounded.

Many of the casualties were trapped in compartments and went down with the ship. Others were killed when their life raft was bombed by a Japanese plane, after the ship had been abandoned.

Investigate Radio Program

WASHINGTON, June 21—(P)—The house committee on un-American activities sat as a jury today to decide whether radio programs broadcast by the New York regional OPA office had a subversive undertone.

The committee, permanent successor to the former Dies committee, was undecided in advance whether to examine the programs—known as "Soldiers With Coupons"—by ear or by eye. Its investigations said they had transcripts, while OPA officials volunteered to give a rebroadcast from records.

Cruiser Hit By Jap Plane

WASHINGTON, June 21—(P)—The light cruiser Nashville suffered heavy loss of life and extensive damage when struck by a Japanese suicide plane in the Philippines last December.

Despite her ordeal, the Nashville continued with her convoy for several hours before turning back to Leyte. Arriving at Tacloban, all her dead were buried in a military cemetery, and her wounded removed for hospitalization.

After temporary repairs at a western Pacific base, she started her 12,000-mile trip home.

Gas Coupons Are Missing

Between $35 and $40, a radio, and all the gas coupons in a filling station on highway 52 in Stover were taken sometime during the night Wednesday, the operator, Richard Fajen, discovered about 7 o'clock this morning when he opened the station.

Entrance was gained by breaking a glass pane in the front door and opening the Yale lock from the inside of the Sinclair station. The theft was reported to Sheriff Oscar Hughes of Morgan county and the highway patrol, who conducted an investigation, but did not immediately report any suspects. Fingerprints were taken.

The money was removed from a cash register. Fajen, a veteran of World War II, said the radio was a new Stewart-Warner.

Merry-Go-Round

by DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, June 21—Sometimes it is from quirks of fate or personal jealousy that heroes are born.

Old army friends of General Eisenhower couldn't help but remember this as they gathered to pay him tribute during his triumphal ride down Pennsylvania avenue.

For, if it had not been for a personal row with General MacArthur in the Philippines, Eisenhower probably would be in a Jap prison camp today instead of receiving the plaudits of millions.

When MacArthur retired as the chief of staff and began the reorganization of the new Philippine army, he took with him to Manila one of the bright, up-and-coming men of the army, Col. Dwight Eisenhower. But, after some time in the Philippines, things didn't go well, and MacArthur fired him. Eisenhower went back to the USA to climb to fame and the top command of the American army.

If he had remained with MacArthur, he probably would now be with Gen. "Skinny" Wainwright and the other American generals taken prisoner by the Japs.

This incident is one reason why Eisenhower will not be sent to the Pacific theatre, despite the reports that he would be made top commander of both the army and navy there.

General Pershing's Luck

It was also a quirk of fate which made Gen. John J. Pershing commander of the AEF in the last war. When the United States entered the war, a resolution was introduced in congress urging that Teddy Roosevelt lead an American army to France immediately. Woodrow Wilson, embarrassed by the publicity given to the ex-president, wanted to head the resolution off. So he called in Sen. Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, ranking member of the military affairs committee and the father-in-law of General Pershing.

That afternoon, Wilson announced that Pershing would command the AEF and Senator Warren, a leading Republican, helped squelch the resolution favoring Teddy Roosevelt.

Teddy Roosevelt, incidentally, had earlier jumped Pershing, son-in-law of the powerful GOP leader, from the rank of captain to brigadier general. At that time, Pershing had been in the army 20 years, was 46 years old, and without T. R.'s kindly intervention, would have retired no higher than a major.

Note — Few heroes arriving in blase' Washington won as many real friends as General Eisenhower. Even the news photographers, most cynical of all human beings, whom President Truman introduced as the "One More Club" sang Ike's praises.

Elliott Roosevelt's Lobbying

It was no great news to White House insiders that Elliott Roosevelt had been up to his eyebrows in various policies directly contrary to those of his father.

Whether he performed a lobbying job for the A. and P. chain stores in return for the $200,000 loan from A. and P. president John Hartford is not known, but it is a fact that Elliott sometimes lobbied for the Texas utilities and certain airlines.

One amazing letter which he wrote to Steve Early, Sept. 1, 1941, urged that the rural electrification administration, one of his father's pet projects, be not permitted to develop the Brazos river electric project in Texas, but that it be given to the Texas power and light company instead.

Elliott's three-page letter written to White House Secretary Early frankly referred to his advertising contracts with the private utilities.

"You will recall that I formerly did a considerable amount of advertising work for private companies located in this area," Elliott wrote. "I am genuinely and personally interested in this thing. I know that it involves a major policy (presumably FDR's NEA policy of helping farmers build electric lines), but a policy which has not so far received the sanction of the president." (This was probably incorrect, since the late president was a strong advocate of NEA projects.)

Elliott also intervened in the Democratic primary campaigns of two of his father's best Texas supporters, Congressman Maury Maverick and William McFarlane.

We Flew Without GUNS

By Gen. Genovese

This is a true story of the men who fly the "hump"—carrying passengers and cargo over the high Himalayas between India and China. Pilots call it the toughest airline route in the world.

FIRE! ON BY OUR OWN ANTI-AIRCRAFT

WHENEVER we flew gasoline we preferred to do it during the daytime, although with other types of cargo it was sometimes safer, because of either weather or Jap activity, to make the trip at night. With gasoline, however, there were plenty of hazards without adding to them the certainty of having to make an instrument approach to the field.

The fields at both Dinjan and Kunming had no floodlights to assist in a night landing or take-off. The blackouts at both fields were complete except for dim rows of green and red lights that would be flashed on for an instant along the landing strips just before a plane's wheels touched the ground.

The reason for such precaution, of course, was to protect the fields from sneak attacks by Jap planes—and there were many such. Few of them, however, were very successful. There were two techniques most commonly used by the Japs, both of which depended for their effectiveness on the well-known fact that C. N. A. C. planes had frequent radio trouble and were at such times unable to contact the field prior to coming in for a landing. Also, because of the generally bad flying conditions, our planes often came into Kunming or Dinjan with one or both motors in faulty working condition. If both motors were in good shape the pilot could keep them perfectly synchronized, then the sound detectors at the base, which get an effective bearing on whom the big power companies helped defeat.

Friendly to Airlines
And even before he went to Texas, Elliott got mixed up with the big airlines. One, Northwest Airlines, was opening up a new route from St. Paul to Seattle which had not been equipped with beacon lights or air aids, etc. To have installed these would have cost the company $1,200,000.

However, Elliott's then brother-in-law, Robert Donner, was a director of Northern Airlines. Also, upon Elliott's recommendation his friend, Eugene Vidal, obtained the key job of director of the air bureau in the commerce department, which ruled on the construction of air aids at government expense. Northwest Airlines then got the benefit of government installed beacon lights and air aids up to $655,445.

Elliott also worked for the Paul Cornell advertising agency which in turn was employed by E. L. Cord, chief owner of the American Airlines to make a survey of the trans-American airlines, which became part of American Airlines. Elliott personally made the survey, with the assistance of Eugene Vidal.

At about this time, the government spent $465,075 for the Nashville-Washington route of American Airways.

It was shortly after these operations for the airlines that Elliott moved to greener fields in Texas. It's Dislike Tennis

It was Saturday afternoon at Camp Lee, Va. The sun was blazing hot. Suddenly, 1,500 GIs were rounded up and "commanded" to attend a tennis match.

Camp Lee, then took the mike and explained to the men that tennis is not like baseball and you can't heckle the players.

Unquestionably, the GIs didn't mean to be rude to two tennis stars who were giving their time without pay. Undoubtedly, also, General Johnson wanted to get a sufficient crowd for the tennis match, and that is why he commanded the GIs to attend. But the moral is that on a hot Saturday afternoon, GIs don't want to be commanded to do anything. Let's blame it all on the weather.

Dearborn Mayor Too Political

DETROIT, June 21—(P)—An ordinance prohibiting Mayor Orville L. Hubbard's suburban Dearborn even from striking up street conversation with one of his constituents if done "under the guise of public business" was passed by the Dearborn council Tuesday night over the mayor's veto.

Adopted by a vote of 5 to 2, the ordinance prevents Hubbard from "all contacts with the public by direct mail or otherwise," except on approval of a new Public Relations Bureau. The bureau is comprised of the mayor, three councilmen, the city clerk, treasurer and a municipal judge.

Norman F. Edwards, council president and sponsor of the measure, accused Hubbard of such "strictly political" acts as bidding goodbye to every Dearborn inductee, handing out gold star pins to mothers of men killed in service, writing every fire victim to see if fire department service is satisfactory and welcoming newcomers to the city by letter.

Mrs. Eisenhower Through Sedalia
ST. LOUIS, June 21 —(P)—Weary but still excited after two "breath taking and thrilling" days in New York and Washington, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, wife of "General Ike", arrived in St. Louis at 11 o'clock tonight en route to Kansas City by train where she met the general and her son, Lt. Sheldon Eisenhower, tomorrow.

Mrs. Eisenhower said she was looking forward to her first real reunion with her soldier family at Kansas City, from where they will journey together to Abilene, accompanying her on the train were Lt. Col. James Stack, Gen. Eisenhower's aide, and Mrs. Stack.

The party left St. Louis at 11:50 p. m. on the Missouri Pacific.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

Ground was broken today in Pacific Heights addition for the new $50,000 brick hotel that David Wilson of Kansas City is to erect and work will be rushed forward to the earliest possible completion. Seven teams and ten men were put to work this morning excavating for the foundation. Mr. Wilson has placed an order for 400,000 brick for the hostelry with the Union Brick company of Iola, Kas. Later he will place an order for 60,000 pressed brick.

In order to provide homes for the many laborers who are expected to locate in Sedalia, with the opening of the new Missouri Pacific shops there the business men of this city have organized a company for the purpose of building a large number of small houses for renting purposes. This is the kind of spirit that will eventually make Sedalia a big town.—Kansas City Journal.

N. B. Gorrell is today entertaining a company of friends at his elegant home two miles north of the city, on the occasion of his birthday.

The Sedalia Lodge of Elks Wednesday night initiated the following candidates: W. A. Latimer, G. M. Cole, W. H. Neeley, T. F. Combs, and Charles Poole. Tomorrow night they will enjoy an outing at Forrest park, providing the weather permits.

The tenth annual report of the Sedalia Public Library, a forty page pamphlet, has just been issued.

Sarah Woods Is Acquitted

Mrs. Sarah Woods, charged with grand larceny in connection with the loss of $60 by a soldier, was found not guilty Wednesday afternoon by a jury in the Pettis county circuit court.

The woman, who was arrested February 18, had been held in the county jail since that time, in lieu of furnishing bond.

Her attorney was H. M. Atwell of Eldon, said to be her former home.

The case went to the jury at 3:55 p. m. and the verdict was given at 3:58 p. m. L. J. Harned, Pettis county prosecuting attorney, represented the state at the trial.

Mrs. Woods was accused of taking the money from Pvt. Floyd Locke, Sedalia Army Air Field, allegedly while they were at her room at 301 East Fifth street. She waived her preliminary hearing before Judge C. W. Bente, ex-officio justice of the peace, on February 20, and was bound over to trial in the circuit court.

Members of the jury Wednesday were A. W. Boon, C. E. Ferguson, Aubrey L. Moore, A. E. Baum, Lowell Reavis, Harry Yeager, Oscar L. Leslie, James A. DeJarnette, Nelson White, W. E. Dovel, Ray Hatfield and Lyman Keuper, with DeJarnette acting as foreman.

WITH THE 6TH INFANTRY
ON LUZON — Sergeant Donald
F. Perkins, husband of Mrs. Eunice M. Perkins of Beaman, Mo., has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal by the commanding general of the 6th Infantry Di-

When he received a report that his infantry company was rea reconnaissance sergeant, volunteered to lead litter teams to evacuate the wounded. Arriving at the forward positions he crawled through heavy machine gun and rifle fire to drag several wounded men to safety. He then assisted in evacuating them to the aid station.

Perkins is a member of a heavy weapons company in the First Infantry Regiment of the 6th Infantry Division, holder of the

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's
Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Handkerchief Tricks

NEW YORK — You can top the magician's handkerchief trick by turning your dainty square into a fancy piece of neckwear.

Proof, in case you're skeptical, are the hand embroidered bertha collar and gilet shown, which look expensive but cost only the price of three Irish linen handkerchiefs.

To make gilet, as shown left, use two regular size handkerchiefs. Cut one in halves for revers. Use the other handkerchief as is, but gathered into a butterfly bow to tack at the neckline closing of revers.

Boston Fans Have a New Miracle Man

Memories of George Stallings' Great Drive Arise as Coleman's Braves Start Climbing

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Bob Coleman loomed today as Boston's Miracle Man No. 2.

The rapid rise of the Braves to a contending position in the National league pennant race had baseball followers thinking back 30 years when the Braves under George Stallings, the original Miracle Man, climaxed a great stretch drive to win their first and only pennant, after being in last place in mid season.

Since that 1914 season, the Braves have been in the first division only five times, but today, after a 15-10 drubbing of the New York Giants last night for their 12th victory in 16 games, they were only two games away from second place and only one behind the fifth place Giants.

Paced by Tommy Holmes, the league's leading hitter and first baseman Joe Mack, Boston out-slugged the Giants in a game in which six pitchers gave up 32 hits, 16 for each side. Holmes, with three hits, increased his batting mark to .385 and extended his consecutive hitting streak to 17 straight games. Mack batted in six runs with a homer, double and single and scored four times.

A pair of homers by Danny Gaddella and one by Johnny Rucker failed to help the Giants, who dropped their 19th game in the last 24, and fell into the second division for the first time this season.

Those onrushing Brooklyn Dodgers cracked out a double win over the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2 and 8-1, to pull three games in front of the second place Pittsburgh Pirates. Art Herring won his first game of the year in the opener, while Curt Davis registered his sixth triumph in the nightcap.

Lefty Hal Newhouser, Detroit's 29-game winner last year, won his tenth this season, blanking the Cleveland Indians 5-0 for his third shutout. Newhouser helped rack up his fifth successive victory by batting in three runs with a double and single. The win increased the Tigers' American league lead to two and one-half games over the idle New York Yankees.

Excitement began when Pitcher George Caster, infuriated at the riding he had taken from the Sox "jockeys," fired the ball into their dugout as he was called off the mound by Manager Luke Sewell. After players from both teams had rushed onto the field, followed by spectators from the stands, the umpires, with the aid of the police, finally restored order. No action was taken by the officials.

The Chicago Cubs moved into third place in the National league four percentage points over the St. Louis Cardinals, by defeating the Pirates 5-3. Claude Passeau held the Bucs scoreless after relieving Bob Chipman in the sixth. Phil Cavaretta's two-run homer provided the margin of victory.

Washington made it three in a row over the Athletics as Mickey Haefer outpitched Bobo Newsum 7-5. The victory moved the Senators into fifth place.

The Red Sox-Yankees scheduled twin bill was rained out while Cincinnati and the Cardinals were not scheduled.

Yanks Welcome a Yank

Johnny Lindell, slugging outfielder of New York Yankees, was made to feel right at home when he joined U. S. Yanks at Fort Dix, N. J. Wearing helmet, Lindell tells admiring soldiers about life in major leagues. Baseball experts opine Yankees will find it a rough road without Johnny's booming bat.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—Since he returned from duty in the Pacific, Bob Feller has become a first-rate amateur magician... which probably will lead various and sundry American League hitters to ask: "How could he turn amateur?"... and it's a good thing Bob is a petty officer and doesn't wear an ordinary sailor's suit because he carries all the gadgets for a two-hour magic show in his pockets... On his first day back from overseas, where he participated in operations at Sicily, Salerno, Anzio and Normandie, Lt. Col. Chester Cruickshank phoned Dan Ferris to ask if his hammer throw entry in next week's A.A.U. track championships was in order... Cpl. Fritz Zivic has been made an honorary sheriff in Texas county, Texas, and now he claims if he can't knock 'em out, he always can flash his badge.

One-Minute Sports Page
When Dave (Boo) Ferris pitched for Minter City, Miss., in the 1940 national semi-pro tournament at Wichita, Kas., he gave up 11 hits in losing a 6-5, 10-inning decision to a mining team from Natrona, Pa., and didn't get a tumble from the major league scouts... The first post parade in American horse racing was staged before the running of the Belmont in 1871. It had nothing to do with the closing time of the mutuels. The navy unit which is leaving Texas Christian U. will be split among three colleges, but Texas U. gets all the eight trainees who won varsity letters.

Kid Stuff
This wire from Tulsa, Okla., is self-explanatory: "Why not give our junior baseball program a break?... It's the biggest of its kind per capita in nation. Chamber sports committee contributed $2000 to dressing up Texas League park where youngsters play doubleheader nightly... Has 22 teams entered in three divisions."

Quotas Given On Production Of New Autos

General Motors Gets Ceiling For 95,096 Cars

WASHINGTON, June 21—(AP)—The War Production Board Wednesday announced production quotas for the ten auto manufacturing companies totalling 691,013 new passenger cars in the nine months following July 1.

Production of 241,916 cars will be permitted in the last half of this year, WPB said, and 449,102 automobiles in the first quarter of 1946.

General Motors corporation was assigned a production ceiling nearly twice as high as its nearest competitor, Chrysler. Ford was in third place.

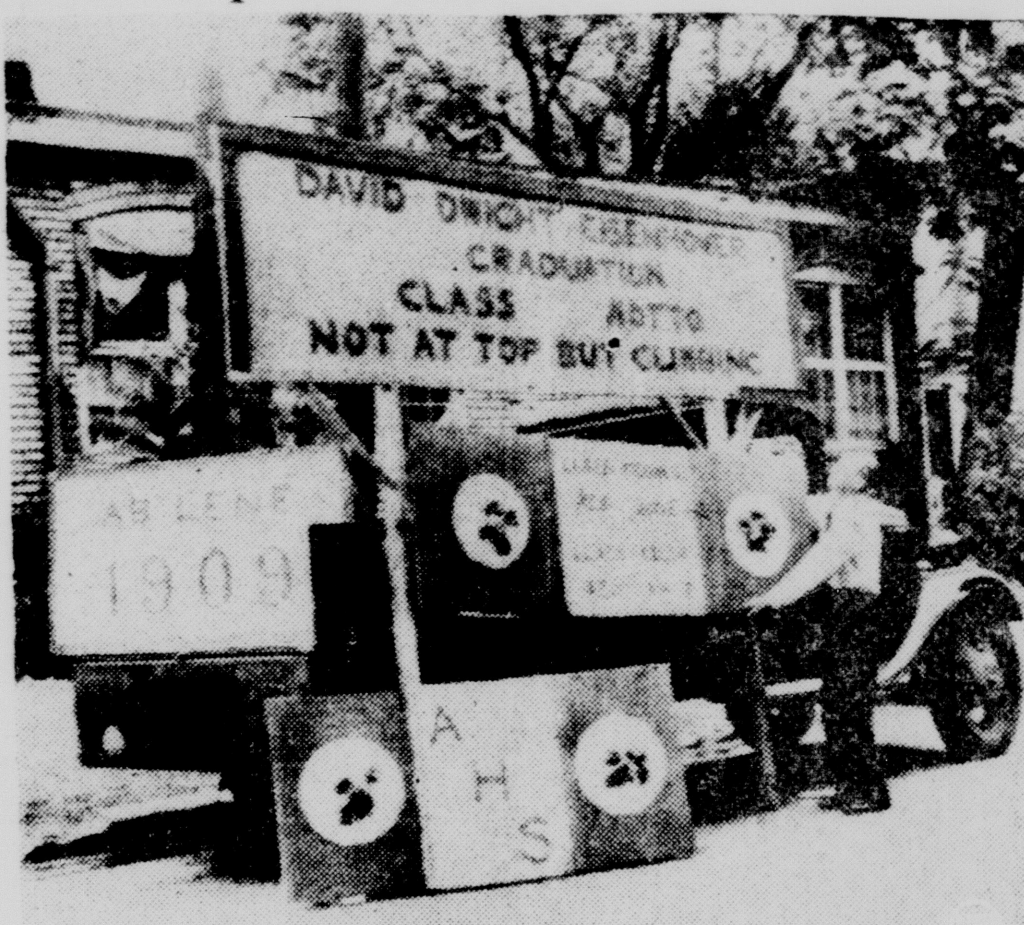

No company was granted a quota of fewer than 8,000 cars in the coming six months, on the theory that production should be started at "a reasonable rate" from the profit making standpoint. Any new companies entering the passenger car field also will receive the 8,000 quota.

"The over-all ceiling on passenger car production is limited by the amount of steel that will be available for such production without material allotments or preference (priority) ratings," WPB said.

Several of the smaller producers would have received lesser quotas but for the 8,000-car limit.

The Ceilings Announced
For the period July 1-December 31, the production ceilings follow: General Motors Corp., 95,096; Chrysler Corp., 49,635; Ford Motor Co., 39,910; Studebaker

Corp., 9,275; Hudson Motor Car Co., Packard Motor Car Co., Nash Kelvinator Corp., Wyllis-Overland Motor, Inc., Graham-Paige Motor Corp., and Crosley Corp., 8,000 each.

For the three month period January 1, 1946 to March 31, 1946, the production ceilings are: General Motors, 190,192; Chrysler 99,270; Ford 79,820; Studebaker 18,550; Hudson 13,602; Packard 12,113; Nash Kelvinator, 11,550; Wyllis-Overland, Graham Paige, and Crosley, 8,000 each.

The figures on total production thus assigned to the industry runs about 10 per cent higher than the expected production level as previously announced. In addition, it does not include special type vehicles such as taxicabs, ambulances, or hearses. The quotas for special vehicles will be established later, the WPB said.

Report Made Of Shortages

Claimed Found In Accounts On Car Registrations

JEFFERSON CITY, June 21—(AP)—Secretary of State Wilson Bell reported Wednesday shortages of approximately $2,200 had been found in accounts of the St. Louis auto registration office and the evidence had been turned over to Attorney General J. E. Taylor for presentation to a St. Louis grand jury.

Taylor said he hoped to be able to submit the case to the St. Louis circuit attorney's office by next week. He said he had not yet determined how many employees were involved.

Four employees of the registration office were discharged by Bell soon after the investigation started in March. Altogether, Bell said, he had discharged about nine employees with police records who were found working in various offices under his jurisdiction.

"Our investigation revealed that approximately 200 application cards for Buick automobiles licenses were changed and that a shortage of approximately $1,800 exists," Bell reported. "We have also found that a shortage of about $400 exists in the beyond-local truck accounts."

Earlier Check Complicated

"The investigation for alleged shortages prior to 1945 has been complicated by reason of a lack of records, but is being continued in an effort to determine the amount of shortage and fix individual responsibility. The investigation reveals that most of the employees were not involved in any way."

The inquiry started when an automobile owner discovered that the motor number on his automobile and on his license receipt did not agree. That led to the disclosure that license records had been altered, enabling guilty employees to collect $20 from auto owners, pay the state only $9 and pocket the difference.

Bell said hundreds of license purchasers had been interviewed in the inquiry by the highway patrol, which also checked handwriting for evidence of forgeries.

To avoid a recurrence, the Secretary of State said he would install a new filing and receipt system soon and had asked the legislature to appropriate $26,000 to buy 16 cash register validating machines for the larger car registration offices.

When the new system is installed, he said it would be almost foolproof.

"I intend to see to it that the fund of the state of Missouri collected by the Secretary of State's office are turned in and accounted for in the office run in a business like manner," Bell said.

Eisenhower Is Given Welcome As Hero By His Home Folk

After Monster Parade At Kansas City Advocates Training Youths

KANSAS CITY, June 21.—(P)—Back in the middle west where he began, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, gazing across the statues of the pioneer mother and scout from Liberty Memorial hill today said that America must give its youth adequate and full military training if it is to uphold its position in the world.

"Adequate and strong youth training" was one of three points which the supreme commander in the defeat of Germany told his homefolk must become the United States foundation for future peace.

"America must trust and co-operate with others, and live in a spirit of toleration, and we must live by those righteous principles embedded in our constitution and which made us strong," General Ike told a sweltering audience on the Memorial dedicated to memory of First World War soldier dead.

"I'm only a simple soldier," Eisenhower said, "but I speak the thoughts of many other simple soldiers like myself when I tell you America must be guided by these three things, the first of which is strongly trained youth."

"But," he continued, "we must understand this in our future conduct with the world; the problems of Europe and the world are our problems whether we like it or not."

Speaks Against Isolationism

"This has been called the heart of isolationism. I don't believe it. No intelligent person can be isolationist, and the ratio of intelligence here is high. If there are a few who believe we can isolate ourselves, he had better face the facts—rockets, robots swarming through the air at great speed and great distances. If another war should come, even in only five or ten years, no one can say these can't reach us, no matter from what distance launched."

General Eisenhower spoke from familiar surroundings, close to his home in Abilene, Kas., where he journeyed tonight by special train with his mother and four brothers and many other members of the family for the greatest Eisenhower family reunion in 20 years.

"This nation," he said, "must continue strong. The coming generation has a right to expect, and it is our duty to see that our (Please Turn To Page 4 Col. 1)

W. S. Shinn Dies Of Injuries

William S. Shinn, 47 years old, died at the Bothwell hospital at 7:00 o'clock Thursday. He was taken to the hospital early Tuesday morning, suffering from injuries received in a fall down the stairs at 117½ South Ohio avenue, Monday night.

Dr. W. T. Bishop, who was called, said he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage.

Chief of Police Anson Fennell, investigating the accident Thursday, said he talked with Walter Shaw, a roomer at the Ohio street address, and he reported that it was about 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, when he heard something like a thud on the stairway. He went to investigate and found Mr. Shinn lying about halfway down the stairway, near a storm door. He evidently had fallen while walking up the stairs to his room.

Mr. Shaw was quoted as saying that Shinn was taken to his room and when his condition appeared to be serious, Dr. W. T. Bishop was called. The doctor said he believed Shinn had suffered a stroke, and he was taken to the hospital.

Mr. Shinn was born near Green Ridge November 24, 1897. His parents died when he was a child and he was reared in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Lytle.

He had lived in Sedalia for the past 16 years, and was employed by the Kray Packing company as stock buyer.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. J. J. Mann, New York City; his foster-father, W. S. Lytle; one brother, Levi Shinn, Wichita, Kas.; one nephew, O'Kee Rice, Sedalia; one niece, Mrs. P. B. Montgomery, Hughesville.

The body was taken to the Ewing funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending word from the relatives at a distance.

Improvement As To Meat Is Anticipated

President Refers To Gen. 'Ike' As A Fine Gentleman

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
OLYMPIA, Wash., June 21.—(P)—President Truman promised improvement in the meat situation and forecast a single control over prices and food at a press conference today, his first outside the White House, after the conference he embarked on a salmon fishing trip.

At the press conference—attended by his host, Gov. Mon C. Wallgren and by U. S. Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Seattle—the President also:

Expressed confidence the senate would ratify the Bretton Woods world monetary agreements and extended the reciprocal trade program;

Termed General Eisenhower a grand gentleman who is entitled to anything he wants, and asserted the President would see that he gets it;

Endorsed a measure calling for creation of a Columbia Valley Authority;

Told reporters the San Francisco United Nations conference seems to have accomplished its purpose and that he would leave by plane Monday to address its closing session Tuesday, after stopping off in Portland, Ore.;

Assured questioners he had no plans for lowering the age for discharging soldiers, adding that it is a matter strictly for the military;

And the President came out flatly in favor of postwar completion of the Alaska highway in cooperation with Canada and British Columbia governments.

The President said he had no cabinet changes immediately in mind and denied reports he was getting rid of Interior Secretary Ickes. In response to a question he said he had nothing on reports of a change in the state department, headed by Secretary Stettinius.

Mr. Truman embarked with Senator Magnuson and Governor Wallgren, from whom he borrowed the gaudy Indian sweater, on a bureau of fisheries boat the "Brant," for an afternoon outing on upper Puget Sound. He disclaimed any expertness as an angler but expressed his pleasure at the opportunity.

For Single Control
At his press conference, the President spoke reassuringly of the food situation and said the administration was at work on a plan for single control over prices and food but did not disclose how it would function.

He said the meat shortage would automatically be straightened out as soon as Rep. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N. Mex.) takes office as his new secretary of agriculture and war food administrator. Mr. Truman added that it would have been straightened out under the contemplated program under Marvin Jones, retiring food administrator, as well.

He told a questioner he had not seen a statement of former President Hoover that food controls over meat distribution had broken down. He added that Mr. Hoover had been very helpful in his recent White House talk on the subject.

Commenting on the reciprocal trade legislation, he said—permitting direct quotation—that it "places the United States squarely behind the principles of international trade cooperation. x x x trade cooperation, however, must go hand in hand with monetary and financial cooperation."

He said he had talked with Senator Magnuson and with Alaska's Governor Ernest Gruening about the Alaska highway, of which there is a 600-mile gap to be finished. He was referring to the valley of "trench" route northward through British Columbia, considerably west of the present Alaska military highway. Mr. Truman said it was absolutely essential that it be considered a part of a postwar program; that it is a good project and he will support it.

President Truman did not elaborate on the remark about General Eisenhower's desserts. The general's first job, the President said, is to get back to Germany and finish his work there. How long Eisenhower will be there, the President did not know. He said that was one of the things to be settled at the big three conference with Churchill and Stalin.

The President plans to spend about two or three hours in Portland Monday, with Governor Wallgren.

Clashes In Paris On Clubbing WAC

NEW YORK, June 21.—(P)—NBC correspondent Roy Porter said in a broadcast from Paris tonight that clashes between American and French soldiers in Paris had been occurring since Monday as the result of the clubbing of an American WAC during France's celebration of the fifth anniversary of the resistance movement.

Porter said the trouble started when the WAC sought to cross a street in the Montmartre section during the parade and was clubbed by a French soldier.

He said American soldiers set out to "correct" the situation, and that the "trouble" hasn't even died down yet.

Celebration At Abilene Today

Gen. 'Ike' To Get Plaudits Of His Home Town

ABILENE, Kas., June 21.—(P)—General Ike Eisenhower came home tonight after blazing a 150-mile trail of glory across eastern Kansas—and the entire population of Abilene and persons from miles around crowded around the little station to give him a heart-warming home-coming.

"Boy, I'm glad to be back here," the general said as he rushed off the train to receive the official greeting, the key to the town where he grew up, and the greeting he has traveled thousands of miles to receive.

ABILENE, Kas., June 21.—(P)—Fresh from big city ovations, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower headed to Abilene tonight to receive a hometown reception and to renew acquaintances with the townspeople who know him as "Ike."

His train was due at 9:30 p. m., but there won't be any official celebrating until tomorrow.

Activity on Abilene streets increased sharply as the time of the homecoming neared. Construction crews worked feverishly on last-minute decoration of reviewing stands, erection of special platforms for visiting photographers, and on other details that must be attended to when a town of 6,000 residents prepares to entertain a crowd of 50,000.

On the eve of the celebration, the local War Bond committee announced that Abilene and Dickinson county had exceeded its Seventh War Loan quota of $1,055,000 by $24,000.

"It's just another way in which we can honor General Ike," commented Matt Guilfoyle, committee chairman.

An Aerial Salute
Further details of the aerial show which will climax the program in Eisenhower park Friday afternoon were announced by the arrangements committee. At precisely 1 p. m. a fleet of planes from the Continental Air Forces will roar over the park in a thunderous salute to the general.

A 95-unit parade, including bands from many Kansas towns and delegations from all of Dickinson county, will be reviewed by the general and Gov. Andrew Schoepel at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

The speaking program in Eisenhower park will begin at 12:15 p. m. Mayor H. F. Strowig will introduce Governor Schoepel, who will extend greetings of the people of Kansas to General Eisenhower. Then C. M. Harger, Abilene publisher, will introduce the Allied commander.

"We have allotted 20 minutes," Harger said "but we hope he will really let his hair down to us Kansas folks and go on talking all afternoon."

The general's talk is scheduled for 12:30 p. m.

Pattern Of Coordination In War Receives Favor

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press News Analyst

The pattern of an Allied army, navy and air force organization beyond the Pacific for the final assaults on Japanese armies at home or in China is beginning to emerge clearly even before actual redeployment of forces released from Europe by Germany's collapse is more than well started.

In that pattern so far as it has been officially revealed, can be detected implementation of about the only two recommendations in that regard voiced by General Eisenhower when he spoke to congress as "just another American citizen" rather than as a military strategist.

Those two prime lessons learned in Europe, the former supreme Allied commander against Germany said, were coordinated of all forces, ground, sea and air, into a single combat team; and bringing to bear on the foe the full weight of available overwhelming Allied superiority in all military categories. It was that which Eisenhower said brought total victory in Europe and minimized Allied casualties. It could bring the same result against Japan, he added.

"Single-Team" Idea
General Eisenhower came back from Europe so much impressed by the "single-team" idea that he later expressed his own wish that American ground, sea and air forces would some day wear "the same uniform." He doubted it would due to inter-service rivalries, but despite the dual MacArthur-Nimitz despite the dual MacArthur-Nimitz command team now beyond the Pacific, something of the same one-team organization that prevailed in Europe is beginning to emerge.

The selection of General "Vinegar" Joseph W. Stilwell by General MacArthur to command the 10th army on Okinawa is a case in point. The death in action of Lt. General Simon B. Buckner, Jr., original 10th army commander, opened the way for Stilwell's new post as a combat leader, certainly a role against Japan he prefers to his previous assignment as chief of army ground forces.

The 10th army, while still preparing for the invasion of Japan, is being retrained for the Pacific campaign. The selection of General "Vinegar" Joseph W. Senate Confirms Claude Wickard WASHINGTON, June 21.—(P)—The senate today confirmed the nomination of Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard to a 10-year term as Rural Electrification Administrator. The vote was 56 to 6.

The senate already has confirmed President Truman's choice of Rep. Clinton Anderson (D-NM) to succeed Wickard in the cabinet post.

Senator Shipstead (R-Minn.) led a futile fight in the agriculture committee and on the floor against Wickard's confirmation. He told the senate that REA had been "mismanaged" as a division of the agriculture department under Wickard, and had been made a "political football."

Chairman Thomas (D-Okla.) of the agriculture committee, replying to Shipstead, expressed the opinion that most of the opposition to Wickard was "inspired." He said it had been developed in the committee hearings that a letter asking for expressions of opposition was sent to many REA co-operatives.

Charter Near To Completion

Conferees Vote On Forum For World Opinion

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—(P)—The United Nations conference unanimously voted today a forum for world opinion, and the Charter of a new International League was all but complete.

A few minor fragments remained to be fitted into the monumental document. Conference leaders were working out arrangements for its signing Monday and a congratulatory address Tuesday by President Truman.

Then the curtain will come down on nine weeks of intensive effort by statesmen of 50 nations guided by a determination that the world never again shall become embroiled in ruinous war.

The last major segment of the charter to be fitted into place by a conference commission sets up the political and security functions of a general assembly of all the United Nations. The chairman of the committee which engineered this section, Victor Andrade of Bolivia, declared the assembly "will be the fortress where human aspirations are defended."

It is to be a structure whose doors seldom will be closed to public and press. For it was agreed unanimously that the assembly should adopt regulations providing that, save in exceptional cases, the sessions of the general assembly shall be open to the public and the press of the world."

Mr. Truman will witness the signing of the Charter, receive the delegates who devised it, and make his closing address at 4 p. m. (Pacific war time) Tuesday.

In hope of senate consideration before his mid-July meeting in Berlin with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin, the chief executive will fly it back to Washington, with a brief stopover at his old Missouri home.

It is a Charter which leans heavily on the will to peace of great nations—those which can bring to bear the greatest industrial and military power in the interest of international security. Charged with the primary responsibility for maintaining peace, is a security council to be dominated by Russia, Britain, China, France and the United States.

But under provisions approved today, all the United Nations will have a voice in the general assembly, and this agency may "recommend measures for the peaceful adjustment of any situations, regardless of origin, which it deems likely to impair the general welfare or friendly relations among nations."

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(P)—Republicans moved today to strip OPA of all authority over food, as their house leader, Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, declared "bungling and inefficiency" have brought America "to the brink of want."

Broadening a recommendation by Herbert Hoover, Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) proposed an OPA amendment to transfer food pricing and rationing powers from Chester Bowles to Clinton P. Anderson, who becomes agriculture secretary July 1.

Democratic leaders marshalled their forces to beat back the Jenkins amendment. Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the banking committee told newsmen it would lead to confusion in wartime economic controls because one agency would have control of food prices and rationing while another, OPA, would have jurisdiction over other products.

The issue will come to a showdown when the house votes tomorrow on legislation to extend wartime price control for one year.

Report Raid Was Made On Wake Island

Guerrillas In North Luzon Split Jap Forces

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—(P)—An unconfirmed report that about 300 "enemy" carrier-based planes on Wednesday raided Japanese-held Wake island, far in the rear of action in the Pacific war was made by the Tokyo radio today.

Wake island 2,300 miles west of Pearl Harbor has not been officially reported raided by American carrier aircraft, however, since last September 3.

Today's Tokyo report, recorded by the FCC, said the attacking planes "are supposed to have taken off from more than two enemy carriers." A Domei news agency broadcast said the raiders attacked in "several waves" and were "successfully hurled back."

Another broadcast reported an air fleet of 56 planes scouted southern Japan for two hours early today, apparently in preparation for new attacks on that area of the homeland.

Radio Tokyo spent a busy day warning the Japanese people in one breath of invasion threats, bolstering their courage in the next, and, between accounts of actual American activity, launching obvious feelers on what next to expect.

Tokyo got a little mixed up on the Balikpapan bay sector of Borneo. First it said Allied forces were conducting mine laying operations in the bay; then it said mine sweeping was in progress. There was no repetition of the Tokyo claims of the last few days that the eastern Borneo oil port had been shelled by Allied warships. There has been no Allied confirmation of those reports.

Split Jap Forces

By SPENCER DAVIS
MANILA, Friday, June 22.—(P)—Filipino guerrillas, brilliantly led by Col. Russell W. Volkmann, have split in the two major Japanese forces on northern Luzon by crossing the Cagayan river and capturing the Cagayan province capital of Tuguegarao and its good airport, Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today.

The daring guerrilla blow, supported by U. S. Sixth army artillery and Fifth air force planes, was struck 35 miles north of Ilagan, Isabela province capital taken the day before by the U. S. 37th infantry division.

The desperate Japanese, having shown little fight for the past week, flung in two armor-led counterattacks against the 37th division southeast of Ilagan, but both were broken when the Buckeye infantrymen knocked out nine enemy tanks, eight of them flamethrowers.

While the enemy was putting his strength into these vain blows, the guerrillas, slicing eastward out of the northern Luzon hills, crossed the river and seized Tuguegarao and large stocks of food and munitions, meeting scanty opposition.

The scene is 50 miles airline and 65 by road of the north Luzon port of Aparri, towards which the estimated thousands of Japanese in the valley have been withdrawing.

Toll Of Casualties To The Japanese Is Announced As Being 90,401

GUAM, Friday, June 22.—(P)—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, marking the end of the Okinawa campaign, issued the following message today:

"To the officers and men of all United States armed forces of the Pacific ocean areas and of the British fleet who have had their part in achieving this important victory: Well done."

By LEIF ERICKSON
GUAM, Friday, June 22.—(P)—Okinawa was captured at a cost of 6,990 soldiers and marines killed or missing and 29,598 wounded through Tuesday, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today several hours after reporting the island was secured at 1 p. m. yesterday, Okinawa time.

Japanese casualties were 90,401 through Wednesday, and more than 4,000 were taken prisoner.

With Okinawa finally secured from a military definition "Japanese soldiers were surrendering in groups, in some cases led by their officers, and it is estimated that 1,700 were made prisoner during the day" (Thursday) Nimitz said.

Total announced American casualties for the entire Ryukyus operation, including the carrier plane attack on a Japanese battle force hiding in the inland sea March 18, were 45,029. This included the 36,588 on Okinawa plus 8,441 navy casualties as of May 24—four weeks ago. The navy lost 4,270 killed or missing and 4,171 wounded to that date, largely through Japanese aerial attacks by Kamikaze (suicide) pilots. Several American ships have been sunk or damaged in the Okinawa area since.

American ground casualties were 4,417 dead or missing and 17,033 wounded in the four army divisions and 2,573 dead or missing and 12,565 wounded in the two divisions and one regimental combat team of marines who captured Okinawa.

Six Point Garden Program

More Vegetables
Must be Produced
And Canned at Home,
To Have Needed Food

How to help people realize that they should grow gardens to have food this winter was the theme of the Pettis County Victory Garden committee meeting Monday night at the court house.

The fact that there is no carry over of old potatoes and only half a crop of new ones is evidence of the seriousness of the food situation. Not only potatoes but peas, beans, tomatoes and corn are very short. Those are some of the leading vegetables on most family tables during the winter. It is essential that to have them this winter, families must grow them. Last year one half of the civilian vegetables supply and two-thirds of the fruit were home canned. This year the commercial pack of tomatoes and green beans is estimated at half of the 1944 pack. That means that this year more vegetables must be produced and canned at home if local families are to have the food.

Fortunately, for Missouri, the fruit crop of blackberries, peaches and summer apples will be good. Families need to take advantage of this by picking and preserving whether by freezing, canning or drying this fruit.

Since it is not too late to plant and grow such foods as tomatoes, sweet potatoes, lima beans, soybeans, sweet corn, greens and green beans, the Victory Garden Committee urges every one to either plant some now or plant more if they already have some started.

Six Point Program
They passed on the following six point program as set up by the State Victory Garden committee.

1. Still time to grow more gardens.
2. Still time to enlarge present gardens and increase succession plantings. Plant every suitable spot with plants or seeds of the crops most needed; corn, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, green beans, greens, cabbage and dry beans.

3. Total food supplies can be increased by better care and management, weed control, insect control and mulching.

4. Using fresh vegetables whenever possible instead of drawing on canned or processed supplies will make important savings in food for next winter.

5. Canning, storing and other methods of preserving fruit and vegetables according to a plan is the only sure method of meeting family requirements in the months ahead.

6. Better distribution of the food produced can be made if any seasonal surplus from the individual garden is offered to friends and neighbors.

These facts and the six point program were presented by J. U. Morris, chairman of the local committee, Mrs. C. L. Carter of the Sedalia Garden clubs, and L. W. Satorious of the Men's Garden club, who attended the state Victory Garden committee meeting last week. Mrs. J. W. Atkinson also attended the state meeting.

These leaders and those present at the meeting are eager to do everything possible to get Sedalians and others to plant more vegetables now and take the best care possible of what they already have by adding fertilizer, controlling insects, and harvesting properly.

4-H Girls To Care For Children

Mrs. Geo. Griffin, Child Development chairman of the Smithton Friendly Homemakers club, has planned with Mrs. Hubert Finley, the club president, to have 4-H club girls manage the children at their club meetings. There are 46 children under school age in these members' families. Although they are never all at club at one time, there are usually more children than mothers present. With that many youngsters there needs to be someone around to keep things going smoothly.

To help entertain the little ones, each club member is to contribute a toy or picture book. The collection will be kept in a basket and the next hostess will take it home with her from club.

The plan worked out by Mrs. Finley and Mrs. Griffin will not only make a short vacation for the mothers, but will be good training for the 4-H girls and apply toward their requirements on Home Service project.

Janet Homan and Joyce Griffith are the 4-H girls who will take charge of the children at the coming club meeting.

MANILA, June 18.—(AP)—Pfc. Ian McKeechne of 58 Hathorne Ave., Yonkers, N. Y., fighting on Mindanao, reports the Japanese have developed a fancy for horse meat. A dispatch from that front today quoted McKeechne as saying his reconnaissance patrol fired on 200 Japanese squatters around two horse carcasses. When the Japanese fled the troops found the horseflesh had been stripped from the bones.

Babe Born In Automobile Saturday A. M.

Couple Lose Way Enroute To Bothwell Hospital

Mrs. H. W. Pomerian, of Warrensburg, gave birth to a seven pound daughter, about 3:00 Saturday morning, in the family automobile in which her husband was bringing her to the Bothwell hospital. Both mother and the baby, who weighs seven pounds, were getting along fine last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Pomerian drove to Sedalia and after reaching the city limits, Mr. Pomerian turned east on Broadway, but was not sure of his direction in reaching the hospital. His wife's condition became such that he realized it was necessary to get her there as quickly as possible. He had stopped the car and, halted a passing car in which A. C. Ford, of Sedalia, and Walter Withrop, of Jefferson City, both special agents for the Missouri Pacific, were riding. He explained the situation to them and they volunteered to direct him to the hospital.

Hurried To Hospital

Mr. Pomerian soon got his bearings in the city, drove so hurriedly to the hospital that the special agents thought at first he might be trying to elude them, and they "stepped on the gas."

At the hospital, however, they realized the prospective father's reason for hurrying. A nurse, meeting the car in front of the building said Mrs. Pomerian should not be moved, and with the nurse's care, and emergency aid given by the father and the special agents, whose flash lights were the only light, the baby was born. The attending physician, Dr. A. L. Walter, was notified. He went to the hospital, made sure everything was all right, and congratulated the father.

Mr. Pomerian is with the Federal Security Administration in Benton county. This is their second child.

Bible School Has Closed

The Vacation Bible school of Rose Lawn Pentecostal Holiness church closed Wednesday with commencement exercises and program held at 8 o'clock that evening.

Mrs. Bessie Palmer, pastor of the church, was director and teacher and eighteen diplomas were presented to the children.

Wednesday noon Mrs. Palmer was called across the street by a neighbor and when she returned the table had been set for a dinner to which all the children had contributed.

After the dinner the children told Mrs. Palmer to look for a present they had hidden in the home and behind one of the doors she found an oil painting of the Christ in a frame, 12x15½ inches.

Afghan for Red Cross

The Maplewood Extension club at its June meeting was entertained in the home of Mrs. John Sutherland, who was assisted by Mrs. Norman Arnold.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

Eighteen members answered roll call by describing their wedding dresses.

H. A. Butner, Pfc. Out of Army After Seven Battle Campaigns

Harvey A. Butner, of Sedalia, private first class, who earned seven battle stars for his European Theater of War ribbon, regained the civilian title of "mister" Monday morning after signing his honorable discharge papers at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, under the point system. Butner, 24, had 127 points, all for service, 42 more than the required 85.

The infantryman, who arrived in Sedalia Monday evening, enlisted in the army June 24, 1939, took most of his training at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., and underwent his first maneuvers at Camp Robinson, Ark., late in 1939 and in January of 1940.

The saga of his overseas experiences began with the African invasion November 8, 1942.

Following close on the heels of the Morocco campaign came the victorious Tunisian battles. Rapidly recounting the next invasions in which he participated, Butner listed the Sicilian invasion of July 1943. After a bout with malaria for which he was hospitalized three weeks, he went into the Salerno, Italy, drive in September of that year. Pushing up to within 20 miles of Cassino with his outfit, he was wounded in the right shoulder—not seriously, he declared, but enough to be out of action for a month. Upon his release from a station hospital the Sedalia soldier went back into the lines.

The next scene of his fighting, in January, 1944, was on the Anzio beachhead, where Butner sweated out the push-off May 23, for the march on Rome. After the city was taken by the Allies, his division and two others were relieved, and subsequently Pfc. Butner was sent to Naples to a training area for the invasion of Southern France.

In August the troops shoved off from Naples, their destination France with Hitler's Germany as the ultimate goal. While in combat he was wounded, and they "stepped on the gas."

At the hospital, however, they realized the prospective father's reason for hurrying. A nurse, meeting the car in front of the building said Mrs. Pomerian should not be moved, and with the nurse's care, and emergency aid given by the father and the special agents, whose flash lights were the only light, the baby was born.

The attending physician, Dr. A. L. Walter, was notified. He went to the hospital, made sure everything was all right, and congratulated the father.

Mr. Pomerian is with the Federal Security Administration in Benton county. This is their second child.

Brotherhood Meeting At First Baptist

Hot fish, cornbread and coffee, prepared and served by a male committee, was the lure that drew a large attendance to the quarterly meeting of the First Baptist church Brotherhood Friday evening at 7 o'clock in the church basement.

The committee was composed of Clyde Williams, chairman; Walter Kennedy, Irvin Robertson, W. L. Reed, Francis C. Rudd and Leonard Hall and performed very creditably in the culinary department usually reserved for the women of the church.

In the program that followed an address of unusual interest and merit was delivered by Chaplain W. W. Lewis of the Sedalia Army Air Field. A group of vocal selections was heard, sung by Pfc. Charles Trask of Boston, Mass., whose rich baritone evidenced professional training. He sang "Two," a song written by Chaplain Lewis, "The American Prayer," "The Living God" and a Negro spiritual.

Chaplain Lewis' theme "Church Influence in the Readjustment of the Returning Veteran," was handled in a very frank and forthright manner that startled his audience into a new trend of thought on the subject.

He said: "You are going to find your young men returning from war with a greater tolerance for other faiths and a reluctance to settle down within as narrow confines of denominationalism as they were before. Give those young men something to do of interest to them outside the usual church routine. Keep them active and busy. Respect their broader religious outlook, for men of all faiths have trained and fought side by side and have found each other's worth."

During the meal Billy Schwenk pleased with accordion music and Pastor Thomas F. Croxton announced special daily church services beginning Sunday, June 17 and asked the cooperation of the church brotherhood.

Pfc. L. D. Waltz of Lewiston, O., was a guest.

Frank W. Bryant is president of the Brotherhood, Clyde Williams, vice president and Fred Arbogast secretary.

WITH THE 7TH INFANTRY DIVISION ON OKINAWA, June 19—Some men call it intuition, others call it fear, but whatever it was that impelled Pfc. James M. Clifford, 26, of Sedalia, Mo., to leave his half-finished foxhole saved his life.

Sgt. Oelrichs Killed By Nazis

Staff Sergeant Vernon J. H. Oelrichs, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oelrichs, Mora, Mo., was killed in Germany on March 2, 1945, according to communications received by his parents from the war department recently.

They received an earlier notice he was missing, on the above date, and since received a telegram stating he had been killed. They also received a letter from his Commanding Officer and also from one of Vernon's buddies, who told them Vernon's death occurred when one of the enemy tanks came upon them in the line of battle.

Sgt. Oelrichs, born on February 7, 1922, was raised in the Mora community on his parents' farm. In March 1943 he was sent to Camp Campbell, Ky., where he received his boot training, then from Maryland he was sent overseas in May 1944. He was in the 83rd Infantry Division, Company I.

Surviving him besides his parents are five younger brothers and sisters, Lillie, Ida, Violet, Harry and Melvin, and a grandfather of Higginsville.

He was a member of the Lake Creek Lutheran church.

His body was laid to rest in Holland as reported in the letter from his commanding officer.

Frank Sellers Convalescing At O'Reilly

Wounded While Taking Part in Fight in Germany

Second Lieutenant Frank Sellers of Sedalia is now receiving treatment and convalescing at O'Reilly General Hospital in Springfield after being wounded recently in Astenberg, Germany.

Lt. Sellers is the husband of Mrs. Mary Sellers, 1205 West Fifth street, Sedalia; the son of C. M. Sellers, Jr., Houstonia; and the brother of Mrs. James Reinson of Nelson and Mrs. Paul Jackson of Marshall.

He entered the service July 11, 1942, taking his basic training with the 89th Infantry Division at Camp Carson, Colorado. After completing his basic he went to Camp Butner, North Carolina, and then to Officers Candidate School at Fort Benning, Georgia. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the infantry on November 4, 1944, and a short time later went to Fort McClellan, Alabama. Sellers stayed a few months in Alabama before going to Fort Meade, Maryland and then overseas to Glasgow, Scotland, his boat docking there March 16. It was only eleven days later that he first entered combat near Cologne, Germany.

Wounded April 2.

Sellers was wounded on April 2 while taking part in street fighting in Astenberg, Germany. His unit had taken the town, but the Germans counter-attacked the same day. Sellers was on the second floor of a building when a German half track started firing 20mm anti-aircraft shells into the building. Shrapnel from one of these shells hit him in the left foot and knee. He was wounded too seriously to leave the building, so he was taken as a prisoner of war when the Germans captured the building.

After being captured he was sent back to a German evacuation hospital where he received an operation on his leg. Sellers said the Germans cared for him the best way possible for the six days he was a prisoner of war. After being liberated he was sent to an American evacuation hospital and then to a hospital at Burford, England, where he stayed seven weeks before returning to the United States.

Take Many Chances

Sellers said the combat medals take as many chances, if not more, than the infantrymen. He says he has had the best medical care possible ever since he was liberated.

"I bought war bonds while overseas," Sellers said, "because I knew they were a good investment. I think most of the people here in the United States are backing us up by buying war bonds and manufacturing the equipment we need to finish the war. I know the people of Pettis county will purchase their quota of bonds during the Seventh War Loan Drive."

Sellers will not be permanently affected by his wound, and will soon be as good as new. He has been awarded the Purple Heart, Combat Infantry Badge, and European Theater Ribbon.

Invitation to OPA Executive Is Unanswered

'I'll Call Him Again If They Want Me To,' Says County Judge

To date no one in Sedalia has received any word from J. G. Callaway, district director of the OPA, Kansas City, in reply to a request he came to Sedalia to discuss with the various panel chairmen and members of the Pettis County War Price and Rationing board, the status of the local office.

C. H. Hanley, spokesman for a group of the panel members, who met several days ago, said that so far he has had no word that Mr. Callaway is coming to Sedalia. When asked if Mr. Callaway had been requested to come here Mr. Hanley stated "At the meeting the other night it was understood that Roy Snyder would write to Mr. Callaway."

"I have been informed that Mr. Snyder did write and has a copy of the letter in the files at the Rationing Board office. However since that letter was written Mr. Snyder has resigned and Mr. Ilgenritz is the acting chairman of the board. . . . but I do feel Mr. Callaway does owe us the courtesy of a visit to Sedalia to discuss the matters," Mr. Hanley concluded.

No Reply Yet
Mr. Snyder this afternoon said he had received no reply but probably would not now as he is no longer chairman. Several days ago Mr. Snyder stated he had contacted Mr. Callaway while in Kansas City and also wrote a letter setting forth the desires of the members of the board who were at the meeting.

Acting Chairman Ilgenritz said today he had no word on the matter adding, "In fact this was all before I took over my present duties. However, should I hear anything I will be happy to pass the information on to you."

Judge J. V. Kesterson, presiding judge of the county court, speaking in behalf of the court said that he had talked with Mr. Callaway several days ago, but that Mr. Callaway gave no indication that he was coming to Sedalia, only saying that some changes were being made. Since that conversation there was a meeting and I was requested to ask Mr. Callaway again to come to Sedalia, and endeavored to call him last week, but he was in Dallas, Texas. If the group wants me to call again, I will be very glad to do so," said Judge Kesterson.

Silver Star To Parents Of Sgt. Salmons

They Also Receive Letter of Sympathy From Gen. Patton

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Salmons of Route 1, Ottaville have received the Silver Star, posthumously awarded to their son, Sgt. Ralph W. Salmons, who was killed in action in Germany on March 24, and also a letter from General George S. Patton, Jr., his commanding officer. The Purple Heart has been received by his wife who resides at Syracuse.

The letter from General Patton and the citation which was also signed by him follows:

"9 May, 1945
My dear Mr. and Mrs. Salmons:
Please accept my most sincere sympathy for the loss of your gallant son. The facts concerning him are as follows:

"On the 24th of March in the vicinity of Gräshelm, Germany, Sgt. Salmons, squad leader of the 3rd Platoon, Company "A", 357th Infantry of the 90th Division, was advancing to the attack, leading his squad.

"During this attack, his leading scout was fatally wounded by machine gun fire and the platoon was halted by this same fire. Sergeant Salmons attempted to go forward to assist the wounded scout. While doing so, he was killed instantly by rifle fire. He has been recommended for the Silver Star for valor. I am enclosing a copy of the citation and the medal.

"I have received more letters than I care to think of from bereaved parents, but I have received none which moves me more than yours. I cannot express to you how deeply I appreciate your heroic attitude concerning the death of your son and your loyalty to me as his commanding officer.

"With warm personal regards, I am,
"Most sincerely,
"G. S. Patton, Jr.
The citation reads:

"On the afternoon of 24 March, 1945, Company "A", 357th Infantry was advancing on the town of Gräshelm, Germany, with the 3rd Platoon in the lead. Approximately 500 yards from the outskirts of the town, the platoon was pinned down by the fire of machine gun and 20-mm anti-aircraft guns. The terrain was very open and afforded little protection to the men who were pinned down. The lead scout of Sergeant Salmons' squad was wounded when the enemy opened fire. Sergeant Salmons, with complete disregard for his own safety, crawled over fifty yards in the face of intense enemy fire to the injured man and was attempting to bandage the wound of the scout when the enemy machine gun fire killed him."

The citation was also signed by Gen. Patton.

Club Talk On RR Signals And Their Uses

"I am going to talk about The Man Behind The Man At The Ticket Window," said E. W. Kettleson, chief of signal operations of the Missouri Pacific railroad, before the Rotary club at the noon day meeting. The speaker then continued, in an interesting and informative way, to give the history and development of railroad signals as they effect the safety and movement of trains. He said in part: "Production of transportation is the job of the railroads, and in order to expedite this production every modern railroad must have a network of wires stretching over the entire system in order to control traffic operation. In 1851 the first train moved under train orders. In the year 1882 came the first use of the signal indication. The first signals used over an entire division were put in use in 1925 by the Missouri Pacific. Then in 1927 came centralized traffic control, whereby all trains are controlled in movement from one central point. This saves as much as nine minutes when trains pass, as contrasted with the old manual manipulation of switches. Also it saves in many instances by enabling trains to pass without stopping either to enter or leave the siding."

Other Devices
"Other safety devices have been installed to detect landslides; to detect floods and washouts, and to detect dragging on a train. Then there are installations to protect pedestrians and highway traffic passing over grade crossings. Finally," said the speaker, "to show how extensively these modern improvements are in operation, the Interstate Commerce Commission reported on January 1, 1945 that 98,000 miles of railroads in the United States are equipped with block signals."

Nolan Bricken, president-elect presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Lawrence Barnett. Guests for the day were Rotarians George Hearne, Warrensburg; and F. D. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, Lincoln, Neb.; Major D. C. Davis with Vic Eisenstein; Ed Hausam, Jr., Dr. J. E. Cannaday, and C. R. Kilbury with Ray Lippard.

Helped Out Air Assaults

1ST BASE AIR DEPOT, WASHINGTON, England — V-E day found Sgt. Dan Duffer of Pocatello, Idaho, on the job, helping to ready more combat planes and equipment for immediate action where they might be needed.

Sgt. Duffer, son of W. E. Duffer, Knob Noster, Mo., and husband of Helen L. Duffer, Pocatello, Idaho, is one of the crack Air Service Command team who pitched in to back the air assaults that helped knock Germany out of the war.

Commanding their battle-backing efforts, Brigadier General Morris Berman, Commanding General of the Base Air Depot Area, Air Service Command, declared: "These soldiers of the Base Air Depot have, since their work began, dispatched 415,000 tons of air corps supplies, assembled and modified 12,000 combat planes, and repaired or overhauled more than 30,000 aircraft engines.

"Every soldier, whatever his job, contributed materially to the magnificent, final result. I commend them, and I know that whatever their next task, they will fulfill it with credit to themselves and their country."

Sgt. Duffer has been overseas since May 27, 1943 and joined the army in July 1942. He was employed by the Union Pacific Railroad, Pocatello, Idaho.

Charles F. Davis On Saratoga

Charles Floyd Davis, F 1/C, who has been spending a twenty-eight day leave with his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Davis, Lincoln, Mo., was on board the Air Craft Carrier Saratoga, when it suffered severe damages in the battle of Iwo Jima. Although several of his best buddies were killed or wounded, Davis was not injured. He had many interesting experiences to tell his family while he was home.

A member of the crew of the Saratoga since January 1944 the ship is all the more endeared to him since it was nearly lost. He wears a service bar and seven stars for major battles. He has now reported back for duty somewhere in the Pacific.

Oran Durrill Suffers Broken Collar Bone

Oran Durrill, who resides four miles east of Green Ridge, suffered a broken collar bone Sunday afternoon, when he was thrown from a horse at the farm home of his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Mahin and Mr. Mahin, three or four miles northwest of Green Ridge.

He had gone to the Mahin home and was trying out a new horse his son-in-law had.

Dr. H. A. Hite, of Green Ridge was called. He had Durrill brought to the Bothwell hospital, where he is a patient.

'Peace Terms Must Be Hard' States Col. John McLaughlin

"I consider myself most fortunate to have gotten back—I'm in a daze yet, and can hardly believe it is true that after all I've been through, and have seen, I'm home with my family, safe and well," said Col. John C. McLaughlin, president of the McLaughlin Furniture Company, who returned home on leave Friday evening, after almost five years in service, three years of that time overseas.

Col. McLaughlin, who returned to the states by boat, is here on a 30-day leave, to go from Sedalia to Hot Springs, Ark., for ten days, then expects a new assignment. He has 144 points, according to the army schedule, to his credit. He is wearing seven battle campaign stars, the bronze star medal, and the French Croix de Guerre, with a gold star, which is an army corps citation. His campaign stars represent Tunisia, Sicily, Naples-Foggia, Rome-Arno, Southern France, Rhineland and Central Europe. At the close of the war he was at Augsburg, near Munich.

Visited Atrocities Camp
The Colonel left Sedalia as a Captain, with the 128th Field Artillery. In June, 1942, he was transferred to the Field Artillery, and sent overseas in August 1942.

The stories of the German atrocities are not overated, said Col. McLaughlin. He personally visited two of the camps and took some pictures, and declares it is hard to believe human beings could be so cruel.

"There must be a hard peace," he states, "because the people of Germany while I've never seen one who would admit being a Nazi—are not angry because Hitler got them into war—but because he lost the war."

As to Hitler, Col. McLaughlin is not convinced in his mind whether he is dead or alive.

Pfc. Eldon V. Smith In P. I. Receives Bronze Star Medal

Pfc. Eldon V. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Smith of Ottaville, has been awarded the bronze star medal, according to an announcement by the 4th infantry division in the Philippines.

The commendation reads: "Private First Class Eldon V. Smith, Field Artillery, United States Army. For heroic achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy near Fort Stotsenburg, P. I., on 10 and 11 February, 1945. Under the extreme hazard of moving defended territory exposed to enemy fire, Pfc. Smith led his wire crew in the successful installation of wire communications to an isolated infantry battalion whose location he only generally knew."

"The next day, Pfc. Smith established wire communications to an observation post on the crest of a difficult and precipitous hill. He accomplished the task by pulling the wire with him while ascending the steep hill-side by going hand-over-hand up a taut rope."

Exposed To Fire
"During the climb he was exposed to enemy fire. As a result of his tenacity and courage, more effective artillery support was afforded the attacking infantry."

A buddy of Pfc. Smith has written his parents that he eventually was shot down from the hill position but "dug himself in" and lay under enemy fire for two days and two nights before being rescued and taken to a hospital where he remained for four weeks.

His wife, the former Miss Pauline Burns, resides in Ottaville, and they have three children, all girls.

Smith will have enough points for discharge by June 29, however he does not know whether he will be released. He has four major battle stars, earned in only nine months overseas duty.

He has been in service 13 months.

Yeager Makes Second Escape

Paul Lingle Yeager, and Paul Dewaine Rogers, inmates of Alcoa Farms, east of Jefferson City, who escaped from the state institution Saturday, were picked up that night at Rosebud, Mo., in an automobile belonging to Fred Leclair, of Bonnots Mill, which they had stolen.

Yeager was sentenced to two years at Alcoa last month on a charge of jail break from the Pettis County jail, where he was being held pending a complete investigation of the Burnett Packing Co., robbery several months ago. At that time Yeager climbed on top of the cages in the jail, put his back against the ceiling of the jail, pushed up and worked a hole through the roof through which he escaped.

The next morning he was picked up at a local hotel where he had a room and when arrested stated, "I just wanted a good place to sleep I didn't like it in the county jail. In fact I planned to go back to jail and give myself up" when the officers captured him.

Yeager's home is Washington, Pa., while Rogers resided at Silkeston and is serving a four-year term on a burglary and larceny charge from Madison county.

children have their rightful dues, and have proper training to meet our foes. I say this with full faith that we are organizing well to minimize the chances of war. We still must be strong, and the possibilities of future war are so terrifying that they make any other course impossible."

Needs "Peace And Food"

General Eisenhower said the world's greatest needs today are moral leadership and food. The middle west, he said, had contributed President Truman as a leader, and must, despite floods and drought and whatever other hazards, contribute food, because without food, there can be no peace. Continued peace means food and the eyes of the world are on this great production center.

"That's nice," Eisenhower said earlier when he learned President Truman had said Eisenhower was entitled to anything he wants, and that he (Truman) would see to it that he got it. "I don't think I should comment further on what the commander in chief said," the general remarked.

Welcome As Hero

The Kansas-reared Allied commander was given a hero's welcome—from the time he and his party landed at the Municipal airport until he left for Abilene, where a big homecoming celebration awaits him tomorrow.

Wearing a broad grin and waving and saluting the crowd, the man much of the world knows as "Ike" led a parade through downtown Kansas City streets lined with thousands of cheering admirers. Military planes roared overhead.

Eisenhower was welcomed at the airport by his 83-year-old mother, Mrs. Ida Eisenhower of Abilene, his wife, and four brothers, Milton, Edgar, Earl and Arthur.

Greeted by a 17-gun salute, the general swept his mother into his arms a moment after his big, starred plane "the Sunflower" landed.

"Hello mother, how are you," the general greeted her, and planted a resounding kiss on her mouth.

"Hello, Dwight," she responded. Then there was a kiss for the general's wife whom he had seen when he arrived in the United States.

Following a brief welcome from an official reception committee which included Governors Andrew Schoepel of Kansas, Phil Donnelly of Missouri and Dwight Griswold of Nebraska and the mayors of the two Kansas cities, North Kansas City and Independence, Mo., the Eisenhower family was escorted to a room in an airport office building where they had a private reunion.

Governors Donnelly, Schoepel and Griswold greeted veterans from their states while General Eisenhower was enjoying the private reunion with his family.

Parade To Memorial

An hour after the party landed at the airport in three planes at 12:16 p. m., Mayor John B. Gage and Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower rode with the general over the parade route to the Liberty Memorial mall across from the Union Station, where the Allied commander reviewed a two mile long parade of military units and gaily dressed horsemen.

His mother, brothers and other relatives did not ride in the parade, but preceded the general to the mall to await his arrival.

In the reviewing stand were the nation's first lady, Mrs. Harry S. Truman; her daughter, Miss Margaret Truman; Vivian Truman, the president's brother; David Wallace, nine-year-old nephew of the Trumans, from Denver; Mrs. Roger T. Sermon, wife of the Independence, Mo., mayor, and Mrs. Ethel Noland, a cousin of Mr. Truman.

General Eisenhower placed a wreath at the base of the memorial shaft in honor of those who fought for liberty in World War I. Governor Schoepel, introducing Eisenhower, described the general as a great leader "who modestly emphasizes the 'faithfulness of the many.'"

"No one," he said, "was called upon to operate in so large an area, nor with such tremendous problems of coordinating different national groups. The task called for military knowledge of the highest order; it called for the diplomatic skill of an ace diplomat."

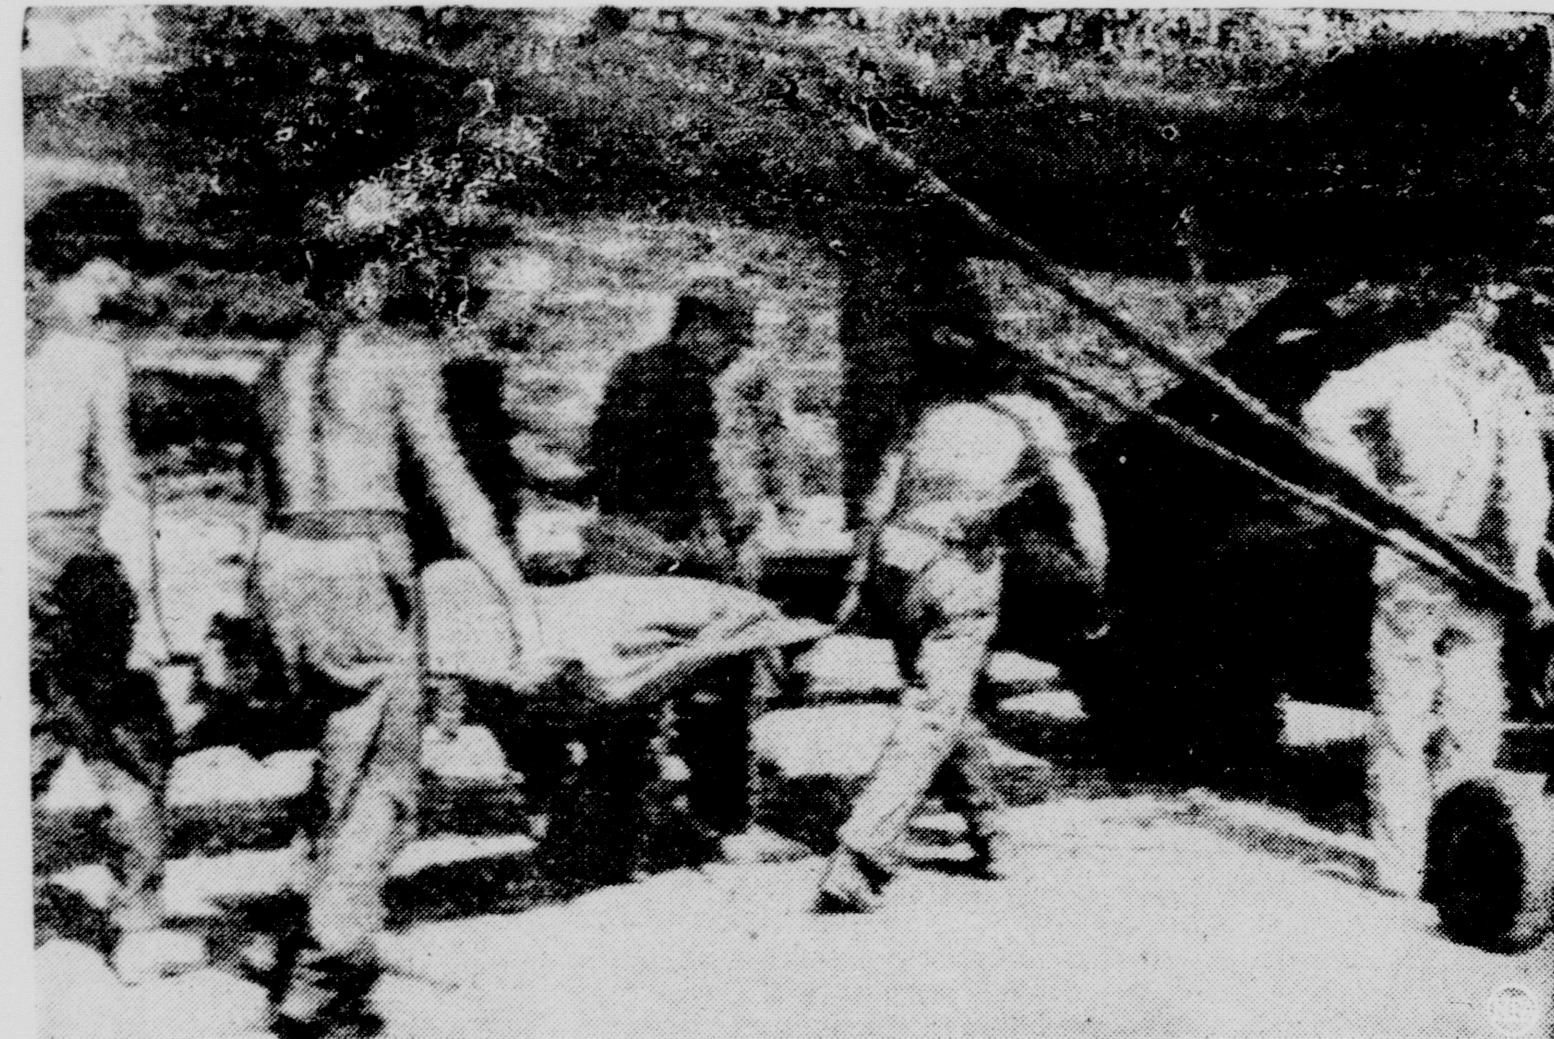

Schoepel and Governor Donnelly rode in the parade immediately behind Eisenhower, each with several heroes from his state who came with the Eisenhower party. Governor Griswold had to return to Lincoln, Neb., after the airfield meeting.

"Nice" Says Eisenhower

KANSAS CITY, June 21.—(P)—"That's nice," Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower remarked today after reading a press dispatch in which President Truman said the general was entitled to anything he wants and that he (the President) will see that he gets it.

Approached by a reporter, General Eisenhower at first said, "No comment," then added:

"I don't think I had better comment on the commander-in-chief's statement, do you?"

Superfort Crewmen Are 'Plain Fellows'

By Robbin Coons

A MARIANAS BASE, June 21.—(P)—Back home the headlines proclaim jubilantly: "Superforts blast Jap Homeland." Or "B-29s Scorch Tokyo."

True headline, true stories—only out here it seems just part of the story. The bomber command sends 500 planes over Japan. That means about 5,500 men, eleven to a plane. Here you come to realize you can never know the whole story until you know what goes on in the hearts and minds of these aerial frontline fighters in those hours before, during and after the headlines are being made.

It's easy to get the idea that Superfort crews are supermen. They fly the biggest planes the longest distances, and Americans love superlatives. So it's a shock at first to meet these men. Many of them look as if they ought to be back home helping "Mom" with the chores or kicking up the dirt on a varsity football field. There are older ones: "Me? I'm an old man of 27," one pilot told me. He was only half kidding. In the main the sky belongs to youth.

Nazis Were Making Plans for 3rd Effort at World Conquest

By Tom Reedy

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(P)—A Senate committee said today it has obtained secret German documents showing how the Nazis intended to "hide" in strategic industries while planning "a third attempt at world conquest."

The announcement was made by Chairman Kilgore (D-W.Va.) of the War Mobilization subcommittee of the Senate military group.

Kilgore said his committee will open hearings next Monday "on the economic base for German aggression" and that additional facts will be brought out.

The announcement contained a report on a meeting of German industrialists at Strasburg, Aug. 10, 1944, intended to make post-war plans.

This document, Kilgore said, "is evidence of how German industry worked hand in hand with the Nazi party to unloose against the world a war of aggression."

Now They're Neutral

"Documentary material of this type shows that with the defeat of the German army and the discrediting of the Nazi party, the German cartellists are attempting to disassociate themselves from their co-conspirators. "Masquerading as 'neutral businessmen' without political allegiance, they have already conceived vicious plans for a third attempt at world conquest."

The committee apparently obtained some of its information on a recent trip to Europe, although it has conducted a continuing inquiry into the broad economy of Germany.

sumably under direct command of Fleet Admiral Nimitz, MacArthur's naval high-command colleague, is in fact the forward element of MacArthur's ground forces. There have been veiled intimations that as ground commander, MacArthur has been seeking it under his direct control.

With Nimitz' announcement that the Okinawa campaign has been concluded and the all important strategic Japanese island freed of the foe except for snipers, the moment for that seems at hand. Stilwell's assignment by MacArthur is its practical consummation.

Lt. General Doolittle's disclosure that his 8th airforce in process of redeployment from Europe across the Pacific is to retain its old designation but he re-equipped with long range B-29 Superforts for strategic bombardment of enemy war installations is another move in the one-team unification. Both heavy bombardment wings will take their directives for strategic operations from the joint chiefs of staff in Washington. So do General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz.

Yet in seeking realization to the full of the benefits of Eisenhower's experience in Europe, a question arises as to whether a time will not come beyond the Pacific for a single over-all Allied commander, unquestionably an American officer, in that zone alone. There is no suggestion that such a move is presently contemplated but it would seem a logical eventual development and the conquest of Okinawa might be the opening of a new phase of the war against Japan based on the single-team idea.

General's Wife Arrives in K. C. Early Thursday

KANSAS CITY, June 21.—(P)—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, wife of Five-star Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, arrived by train today and her first question was:

"When will Ike get here?"

The Iowa born, blue-eyed brunette then wondered, "How much will I get to see him?"

Mrs. Eisenhower was greeted at Kansas City's union station by Mrs. John B. Gage, wife of the mayor, and Mrs. Roger T. Sermon and Mrs. Lee Roberts, wives of the mayors of Independence and North Kansas City, respectively.

The general's wife invited them to breakfast on the train while the car she occupied was being switched to a siding.

"Might as well have a cup of hot coffee," she urged, and the three women accepted, quickly at ease with their hostess.

Homesick

SALT LAKE CITY, June 21.—(P)—"I hadn't been out 15 minutes when I realized I'd made a mistake," Adelbert Budshun, 22, told Warden John E. Harris of the Utah prison, when he phoned from Ogden, Utah, after his escape on Monday.

Budshun volunteered to return to prison by himself to save the guards a trip. At 4 a. m. he appeared at the prison gates.

He defied his garrison cap as he approached her and smilingly said "why hello mother. How are you?"

In a voice that trembled ever so little she said softly:

"Hello Dwight," and then she kissed him.

Proudly she clung to his arm as they posed several minutes for the photographers and as the general next greeted his brothers, sisters and other relatives.

Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower, the general's wife who had come to Kansas City by train ahead of her husband, sided with the crowd on the matter of names.

When the general saw her he grinned and said "why, hello Mamie" and she replied pertly "hello Ike."

Guards Officers Been At School

Officers of Fourth Missouri Infantry and enlisted men have been attending Cuivre River State Guard school at Troy, Missouri, school commencing June 4th. The school this year consists of administrative duties of officers, special training for the non-commissioned officers as well as a new program for enlisted men in training. Capt. Arthur Burke of Company "F" attended Cuivre River school the week of June 4th and Lieut. Ernest Reynolds attended the week of June 10th. Sgt. Leslie Hale and Sgt. O. W. Hall, Sgt. Devoll are at Cuivre River this week.

Brigadier General John A. Harris of Columbia, Missouri, has succeeded Clifford Gaylord, St. Louis, as adjutant general of Missouri state guards. Brigadier General William E. Guenther, commanding officer of district No. 3 Sixth Service Command, Chicago, Illinois, visited Cuivre River school the week of June 4th and spoke on control of rosters such as he experienced at the Detroit riot. The 757 M. P. battalion sent a detachment to Cuivre River school to demonstrate the operation and tactics of internal security forces. The Fourth Missouri Regiment is staffed with outstanding officers able to train new recruits in modern military tactics. Recruits are still needed in all companies. Company "F" meets every Thursday night and new recruits are needed to maintain company strength.

Short Would Leave The Ruins

JEFFERSON CITY, June 21.—(P)—"Smouldering ruins of German cities should be left as a monument to the colossal folly of the Nazi party," Rep. Dewey Short, Republican congressman from Galena, Mo., told the Missouri house of representatives today.

"If I had my way," Short said in reporting on a recent tour of German concentration camps, "all the ringleaders of the Nazi party, the Gestapo, the SS troopers and the Prussian military leaders would be liquidated."

"Rub them out every last one—and shooting and hanging is too good for them! If we don't do it, we'll have this thing to do all over again. x x x

"We must teach these people that war is a crime and that crime does not pay."

Short said the "arch fiends" who created the horrors of the concentration camps—"cesspools of hell" in his words—should be of such estate and if such claims be not exhibited within one year from the date of this publication, they shall be forever barred.
